“ We are born into this world and the day we take our first steps, we begin to choose the paths we want to take as we pass through this life. I've known Betty Faye since I was 16 years old and I consider myself fortunate to have been her friend. Betty Fay had rare qualities seldom found in this world...she was always herself, kind, thoughtful, she was strong and even in difficult times she could use that strength to comfort others. If anyone needed a smile, Betty Faye always had plenty of smiles to share. She may have finished her path in this world but all the smiles she shared will stay with us forever.
