“ Carol Dean was what I always called her....by her first and last name. She was such a sweet person with a huge heart full of love for everyone. She always had a smile on her face everyday at work. I always wanted to learn how to make beautiful baby blankets like she made, and I am blessed to have one she made. The crocheted angel I put on my Christmas tree that she made will have new meaning this year. To her family that she loved dearly, may God wrap His arms around you and carry you through the times ahead of you. Please know that all of you are in our thoughts and prayers.
