“ Every moment of our lives are fleeting and each person we share our life with becomes a precious part of us. Life only allows enough time and energy to connect with a limited number of people. Losing one of these precious individuals creates an emptiness that echoes for the rest of our days. Yet somehow we must find the will to carry on, knowing that those we love will live on through us, that their memories influence the choices we make and help shape who we are....I love you and I will remember you until we meet again on the other side of the veil....RIP Charles David Rose....Your brother, Mike

“ David, as I've told you and many others in the past, I could have never asked for a better neighbor than you have been to me over the past 10 years. There's never been a time I asked you to do something for me that you didn't do it. In fact, I don't recall having to ask you for anything, you just some how knew what I needed and would show up, whether it be to help me straighten out my lawn mower deck, because I wasn't paying attention to where I was going and ran over something, to jumping my car off or to help me take care of a sick chicken. Regardless of what I needed, you some how knew and would always show up to lend a helping hand. It will never be the same knowing you are not there with your caring and watchful eye, making sure I'm safe at all times. You were one of a kind and will never be forgotten my dear friend. Love, Angela A. Barefoot

“ One summer I spent w grma helen n granddaddy, I remember he was always willing to walk me the few blocks to get candy. That was a great summer listening to the older kids music :) Tammy & the boys all felt like cousins to me not a distant uncle. My heart breaks & I wish I could be there to celebrate his life.
