“ My prayers are with all of you. I did not know her, but I do know Emily and she told me of this and my prayers are with you all. Just think though, now she feels no pain and she does not have to worry about bills or anything of that sort. She loves you so much that she has gone ahead of you to prepare a place for you. I know that you may not understand that now, but try to think of anything positive that you can. She does not now have to think of gas prices going up, food going up, everything but pay is going up, and she does not have to physically deal with it. Now she is able to help see you through it.##imported-begin##Angie Bessenger##imported-end##

“ Emily and Family,
Please accept my deepest sympathy for the loss of your Granny. I lost my own in 2001 and I cherish every single memory I have with her everyday. They say time heals all wounds, but I disagree... I think memories do. You are lucky enough to have had someone that special in your life and I know you will always cherish the memories that you and her have created together. Hold on to them, cherish them, and smile when you think of them.
"Death leaves a heartache no one can heal, love leaves a memory no one can steal."

Lots of love, Tracy Yon

“ I considered Nana Doris to have been my other mother. I lost my own mother in 1997 from lung cancer and when Nana Doris found out that I was an orphan, she immediately adopted me as one of her own. I was introduced to her through her grand daughter, Emily, and became fast friends with her as well.
She always had a special gift for making me feel that I was wanted and welcome whenever I went over to see Emily and ultimately ended up talking to her the entire time! She was one of the first people to see my newest babies, Bentley and Olivia Claire, after we got them.
I will always have a special place in my heart for Nana Doris. She was truly one in a million and this Earth's loss is clearly Heaven's gain...##imported-begin##LynneStevenson##imported-end##
