“ Dear Moma, It has been 11 and 1/2 months since your death. AT TIMES, IT SEEMS LIKE YESTERDAY when we last held your hand and face. God has been so good to all of us. He has wiped our tears, held our hands, lifted us and cradled us in His arms. Without His loving comfort and mercy we would not be able to face each new day. Our lives and hearts will never be the same. There will always be a vacant spot in our hearts and lives. We miss and love you with each breath of our life. Your love and determination has instilled in each of us the ability to continue with our journey. We take you in our hearts throughout our daily routines. Once again, Moma, thank you for all your love, sacrifices and never-ending ability to do all you could, for all of us. God richly blessed us with you. You are "one in a million". Be at peace, "Rest high on that mountain". When God's ready for us, we'll be together again, until then, I love you always, Your youngest daughter, Edna Faye##imported-begin##Edna Faye Warr##imported-end##

“ Dear Moma, Today has been 6 months since you were ushered into heaven. Our lives have changed forever. The love in our hearts for you and our precious memories will never change, only grow more sweeter with each passing day. The grass is turning green, the butterflies and bees begin to fly and the flowers and trees bloom. "For everything there is a season". Our time seemed so short, but we were all so wonderfully blessed. I can never thank God enough for all He blessed our family with, and continues to bless us with. Dance, sing and rest in the delight of the Lord, for we too, one day shall be with you again. For now, we must continue our journey the Lord has for us. Moma, you will always be in our hearts and our thoughts. Be at peace my beautiful Mother. Love forever and always.##imported-begin##Edna Faye Warr##imported-end##

“ Moma, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. Moma, we missed you greatly at Christmas. But we all realized it had to be a magnificent Celebration for you. We can't imagine what Christmas with Jesus must be like! You were in the presence of our King. You were whole, no pain, no sickness. We can only imagine. We were sad without you. We remembered the wonderful years of family Christmases. You helped make them all so special. As we prepare to begin a New Year, it is hard to imagine a year without you. God gives us hope, peace and comfort we cling to. Our love and wonderful memories of you carry us through each day. We feel your presence with us. Moma, thank you for your love and all you did for us. We thank God daily for you. Now I pray God will be with each of us during this New Year. We will hold on to God and each other. God will carry us, lead us to the next stage of our life. I love you always Moma. Your youngest, Edna Faye##imported-begin##Edna Faye Warr##imported-end##

“ Dear Moma, I wanted to tell you Happy Thanksgiving. Today is our first major holiday without you. It has been a hard day. We miss you so much. Our hearts are heavy, our spirits low. Your empty seat at the table, reminds us of the empty hole in our hearts. We went through the motions. We tried to carry out the traditions of the day. But it wasn't the same. Throughout the day we remind one another of past Thanksgivings or other happy memories. We knew you would want us to carry on with plans. April came by twice to pickup and deliver the fried turkey. She misses you so. We talked, cried and hugged. We looked at special pictures of you to help us through the day. Moma, we love and miss you so. Peggy left all of us a special card this morning before she went to work. The card had a picture of you and Pa in his flower garden and you with Trey and Jada when they were babies. Her card told of two special blessings God had given us, you and Daddy. It reminded us that even though we are at a loss with you gone, we still have hope with God to carry us through. Your physical body was tired. So God called you home to rest. Our hearts are broken, but God needed the best. And that you were, the best wife, best mother, best grandmother, best great-grandmother, best sister, best aunt and best friend. Moma, don't worry about us, you worried enough down here. We will do our best to care for Daddy and one another. Rain drops fell on us at the grave today. Mary Jane said it was your tears to clear our eyes and touch our hearts. Don't cry for us. Your love is in our hearts. God will carry us, love us and wipe our tears with grace and mercy. Your love spills over to us from above. I pray our love will continue to flow to you. We love and miss you Moma. Thank you, to you and Daddy for giving us life and love, the most precious gifts any parent could give their children. We will always love you. Your family, now and always.##imported-begin##Edna Faye Warr##imported-end##

“ Dear Moma, It has been 4 weeks today since you died. Each day is hard. We miss you so. Our hearts are still shattered, our lives on hold, We go through the day to day motions that are required of us. We long to see your smiling face and embrace you. We tried to fill as much love in your life as we could, We so wanted you to be happy. Because when you were happy, we were happy. We recall happy moments to one another to feel your closeness and love. You left us with many wonderful memories to cherish. We hope your life was filled with as much love and happiness as you gave to us. Family and love was your mission. You accomplished it perfectly. God blesses us daily. Without the help of God, family and wonderful friends we have, it would be too hard to imagine. You were "The wind beneath our wings". You helped keep us focused and motivated. I guess that is what God wants mothers to do. No matter how many hours, days, weeks, months, years go by you will ALWAYS be loved and missed. I pray the Lord will hold your hand and keep you close. Thank you for being the best mother in the world. I love you now and always, your daughter, Edna Faye##imported-begin##Edna Faye Warr##imported-end##

“ Dear Moma, It has been three weeks since the Lord called you home. These have been the hardest three weeks of our life. We miss you more every day. Our hearts are heavy with a large gaping hole. If only I could hold your hand or touch your cheek. We visit your grave daily. Somehow it makes us feel closer. Your special smile, the sound of your voice, the twinkle in your eye, we miss so. I called home to hear your reassuring voice, but you were not there. We're holding on to the truth in the Bible. God says in His Word if we believe, we know you are at peace, rejoicing and no suffering and we can join you in Heaven one day. Your work here was done. But God still has work for us to do. So, my beautiful mother, rest and be at peace. Know we love you always and forever. Your daughter,

“ Dear Moma, I miss you and love you. On October 12, 2007, a big part of our hearts died too. I wish I had one more minute to say or do one more thing. You were a wonderful wife, mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, sister, aunt and friend. God blessed you with 72 wonderful years. He blessed me with 52 years of having you in my life. I am a better person because of you. Everything we look at or touch reminds us of you. Our lives seem to be on hold. With God's grace and your love in our heart we will survive. You gave of yourself always. You bathed us, clothed us, cared for us, cooked for us, washed and ironed for us. You said so many times that was how you could show us your love. You pushed for so long, when you could have given up. God gave you strength beyond comprehension and your undying love for us made you do when you weren't able to do. The days and nights are hard. We all miss you so. Daddy, Mary Jane, Peggy Jo, myself, April, and those darling little ones loved you more than life. We wished we could have taken your pain and suffering. But now God has done what we couldn't. According to His word, you have no pain, no suffering. So Moma, rest high on that mountain. Your work and struggles are over. Walk slowly and we'll join you in God's timeplan. Be at peace and we will always love and miss you. Your youngest daughter, Edna Faye##imported-begin##Edna Faye Warr##imported-end##
