Kim and family, May God send his Angels and wrap their wings around you at this time

Never did think that when I saw you in Rite Aid and you telling me that you were here to help with your mom, would be to this. Just think of the joyous time here and Gene are having along with other family and friends. I remember when were young your family had a cook out don't remember how it went but I do remember your mom being one of the sweetest ladies ever offering drinks and whatever was there. Just remember your post when she passed ...no more pain.

“ I have so many wonderful memories of Elaine, her family and our church family at Morton Presbyterian. We had a great youth group and our families loved and cared for each other. There were 5 families that would get together a lot after church on Sunday night and watch Candid Camera, play and sing around the piano and just do funny things together. That same group went on many vacations together and just loved being in each others presence. Elaine was a little older than me and I looked up to her. She was so pretty. I am so very sorry that she had to suffer so much but now she is well and wonderfully complete with the Lord. I can only imagine the reception she has had in heaven. Please know that I share with you in your loss and my prayers are with each of you..(Kim, Ms. O'Neill, Tommy, Terry and all of the family.)

“ I was shocked and saddened by the loss of this wonderful lady. She helped rear my children when she worked at Hamrick's Store during her tenure as a cashier. She was funny, frank to the point, compassionate to her fellow friends in need and she hated to ask for help from others. "Fighting a good battle" while we are here on earth doesnt just mean physically she would say, it means we fight all of the other curves we are thrown in life as well. She loved my farmer Dad, her nieces and nephews and her beautiful daughter Kim. When things in life were not right, she did not give up. She told me several months ago that life was not about dying to live, it was about living to know where we were headed when we die. I didn't know then how sick she really was, but her words have stayed with me. Her memories of the daily lives she touched will remain with those of us she touched however great or small. Love to all of you and prayers. GRIEF= God Releases our pain, hopes we have a desire to Instill in others how thin the veil between life and death really is, offers us Eternal life with Him, and He is Forever is with us even when we don't ask of Him.
