“ Marsha & Lindsay my heart goes out to you both for your loss I know how dearly loved your daddy was to so many people. He was THE most giving, funny and BLUNT man I know. :-) You didn't ask him anything if you didn't REALLY want to know what he thought...he held nothing back!! That was his charm or at least one of them...he had many. I enjoyed my Sundays with you(Marsha) and pa and will cherish the memories always. I know how much he loved my daddy and how my daddy loved him. I feel a peace knowing they are together again and are catching up~ I love you so much and am here to help you in anyway I can. <3 <3 <3

“ I am so truly sorry about Heyward, I talked to him a few weeks ago after going way too long without talking to him. I did get a chance to tell him I loved him and missed him so much. I live on Lakeview, where he had his brown trailer. He spent so much time under the pecan trees watching the traffic go by. And he enjoyed cooking in the little grey shed, friends would just stop by and they'd sit and talk for hours. I can't look out my windows without thinking of him. We talked over an hour just a few weeks ago, he said he missed being up here where he would see more of his friends. After he moved he said people didn't stop by as often as they use to. We were both talking about how everyone has so much in their own lives that it made it hard to take time out to visit old friends; people just drift in different directions. I am so grateful that I called him that day to see how he was doing. He told me how much he loved me and if I ever needed anything or even a ride to dr. or anywhere that all I had to do was to just call. I told him I felt the same way, if he needed Anything or just to talk to give me a call. I've always told him he needed to write a book, because no matter what the situation, he knew what to do. He'd always say his mom would have a homemade cure for anything. This is one time I guess the answer didn't come soon enough. (Don't know why he passed, I just heard). But, Heyward prayers are coming from the heart for you and your family (and everyone that had the pleasure of knowing you). MAY YOU R.I.P.! You'll always have a place in my heart..... You helped fulfill my life with your stories and advice. LOVE YOU SO VERY MUCH, (just pray God let's you know how very,very special you were to me. I'll Miss You. Edna Tomlinson

Mr. Heyward "Pa" Walters was a gentle soul who loved to laugh, but most of all he loved his daughter, Marsha Walters Bickers. She was his angel here on earth.
