“ Dear Sue, Lee & Families:

*I was so saddened to learn of your mother's passing. She was a great lady. I have some good memories of her and some of the conversations we would have about life and it's challenges back in the '80s when we hung out together. I cannot imagine the loss you must feel and how much you will miss her. If you ever need to talk, I have two ears if you need them! I am still mourning the loss of Caroline. It is so strange that just yesterday, I was thinking of you - Sue. I was in Caroline's room and was drawn to look at the "T" you cross stitched, framed and matted with the wallpaper from my master bedroom of our house on 11th Street. Caroline has had it hanging in her bedroom all these years and always cherished it because I told her that a dear friend of mine made it for me and Nelson. I was thinking of you and how you held her the first time you came over to see her after we got home from the hospital after she was born. She was wrapped in the pretty hand made shawl that Laura Reynolds' aunt had made for her. You will remain in my prayers. I pray that God will shower you with the grace, love, peace and comfort to sustain you during your time of loss. Love,
Rebecca###imported-begin###Rebecca Skinner-Fulmer###imported-end##*

“ Sue, Lee, Taylor, & Susan,
We were sorry to hear about the death of Sue's mother. We will not be able to come to the visitation because of prior obligations tonight at church, but we will definitely remember your family during this time.
