“ May you find comfort in the memories that are yours to cherish always, and strength in the companionship of those who share your loss.... I have learned never to underestimate the healing power we all have. It is always there to be used for the highest good. Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted. (Matthew 5:4) May it be a source of inner strength to know that there's a loving God watching over you, and that, throughout this time of need, He'll stay close by your side. I have fought the fine fight, I have run the course to the finish, I have observed the faith.-2Timothy 4:7. As for me, I will lie down that I may sleep; I shall certainly awake, for Jehovah himself keeps supporting me. -Psalms 3:5##imported-begin##Magallon Family##imported-end##

“ Jamie, Joy, and Charlotte - I cannot begin to understand the depth of your sorrow at the loss of your father and husband. When Pam called me to tell me about Tot's illness, I was saddened, but I hoped dearly for his recovery. There is nothing that I can say at this time that will ease your pain. I can only hope that the good memories of such a great dad and husband will help carry you through. Charlotte - if there is anything I can do, please let me or Pam know. Jamie and Joy - Pam loves both of you so much and so do I. If you need either of us, we will be there.###imported-begin###Susanna Robertson###imported-end###

“ Joy, You know I love you very much and am very saddened to hear that you lost your dad. But I keep thinking of a story I read about a 'Sailing Ship'. "I am standing at the seashore. A ship at my side spreads her white sails to the morning breeze and starts for the blue ocean. I stand and watch her until, at length, she hangs like a speck of white cloud, just where the sea and the sky come to mingle with each other...And just at the moment when someone at my side says: 'There, she is gone!' there are ohter eyes watching her coming, and other voices ready to take up the glad shout: 'Here she comes!'"I truly believe that even if we are not rejoycing, there are others on the other side who are.##imported-begin##Missy Jones##imported-end##
