“ I felt so honored to have been a part of your life. I remember being dropped off to your home every morning and you would watch me while the other big kids went to school. We would bake cookies and go buy Barbie dolls. I can recall each special Christmas we spent in your home. The fire blazing, the dessert table full of cakes baked by you and aunt Ruth, and the entire morning of coking casseroles and rolling out biscuits together. You always made everyone feel special in your home.

Later in life you moved down to Florida so you could take care of us all. I remember the times you got sick and would try to convince us it was your time. Somehow we always persuaded you to stay just a little longer. I remember thinking at my high school graduation that I needed you to just hang in there to see me graduate college. When college graduation passed I would think up another event you had to stay for. I remember at my wedding how beautiful you looked and how you waited for the last song to play and we all ran over and danced with you. I'll never forget you smile, your laugh or how you made me feel. Like I said I feel so honored to have been a part of your life. You are a beautiful women who had enough love for the world. You will forever be with me in the kitchen and lord knows when I'm making your secret fruitcake. Keep watch over all of us and I look forward to seeing you again some day.
