“ We are so sorry for your loss. You are all such a wonderful, caring family. You can only take comfort in the fact that you are surrounded by those who knew and loved Joey and all of you as well. Death is a part of life that no one is prepared to accept or understand. Our prayers are with you.

I am sure that your heart is broken. It is special to have a sibling.
Most of the time it is a bond that is hard to break. You were blest to have Joey and I know you will miss him. Please know that God will help you and give you the strength you need to get through this time. Our prayers will be with you .

“ Sandra, I can only imagine your feeling of loss right now. You both went through a lot and you were there for Joey and I am sure he was grateful to have you. Only God can fill that void and give you peace that he is now out of pain and happy, Allison and Adrienne, I can understand your loss because I have been there twice now. It is so hard to let go and hard to understand but in time God will show you that only he knows what is best. He will give you strength and peace. Stand behind your mother now and give her all the love and support you have
Ms. Johnnie Lou, I know it must be hard to let a child go, but he fought a good fight and you have the assurance that he is no longer in pain and he at peace now. It doesn't seem natural for a child to go first but God's plan is perfect and we have to put our trust in him in times like these.
Hazel and the rest of the family, our prayers go out to you and please know that we are here should you need anything. In times like these we need family, friends, and the Lord to lean on. You are blest to have all the above
God be with you. Love and Prayers
