“ Kenny was like a brother to me. He was always there when you needed him. I think he and I built the equivalent of Rome together. He helped me improve so many of my homes. We would sing together constantly while we worked scraping ceilings, putting down baseboards or building whatever was the project of the day. It made me smile when he would introduce me as his sister to others. We shared a tremendous love of music and challenged each other on who sang what and what year it came out. I will miss you my friend. I know you are sailing!
