“ To the family of Mr. Threatt, I am very sorry for the loss of your loved one. I only knew him as "TOO COOL" the nick name that the girls at the Markett gave him because of the hat he wore a lot. He was always so fun to talk to and I truly enjoyed his company. It has been awhile since I had heard or seen him in town but he taught me a lot of life lessons that I will never forget. To my "TOO COOL" I love you and you will forever be in my heart.
With all of my love

“ Moe, My Dear Friend. I was so sorry to hear of your passing. We lost touch when I left town, but you have always been in my thoughts. I owe you more than my friendship, which you take with you - I owe you my life for that day in Lincoln Village. You never spoke of it after it happened, but you were a Hero that day - and we both walked away with our lives. You looked straight down the barrel of that gun one of the sisters held and with your smiling way and forever and always calm voice talked her into handing it over to you. You taught that young rookie, I once was, most of what I learned about being a street cop, and a whole lot more about just life in general. My gratitude and love are yours forever more. I hope to walk a beat with you again one day in a better place. You are forever my friend. My best wishes go to your family.##imported-begin##Jim Duval##imported-end##
