“ Man its been a decade since you moved away, but still it shouldn't have came down to these circumstances for us to have a chat. I can't believe that the primo I had to play with growing up is gone from this earth. I wish I could have been the medic on scene, cause there had to be something I could have done. I miss you man. Take care of your mother and sister.

“ *Michael,
You could be funny, nice and mean but you were always a friend. Like in school when my books were too much for me to carry you would come up with that huge smile on your face and say " your walking like a duck". Though i hit you then it makes me smile now. When i met your lil brother Gregory i would have never guessed you were brothers, you're like night and day. I was hoping to get to talk to you agen so I could tell you that now i can't but I think you knew how awesome he was. Lil brothers are crazy that way, they can be of the same blood, though of a totally different cloth but they have a part of your spirit like a lil part of your heart. My lil brother is all grown up now too but i would still want him to know that "lil" brother is a permanent part of his name and what i hope Greg knows; that nothing ever will change that. You were silly in every way and i hope you find bunches of cute girls to pic on up there. Wish i could of told you I missed you befor.*

“ Oh Greg, I am so sorry I didn't realize the young people that passed Sunday night were your kids til now...I am so sorry! My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family as you go through this time in your lives, may God comfort and grant you all the sweet peace that surpasses all human understanding.

In Christ,

“ Mike,
We didn't always see eye to eye, and we had our squabbles, but, that doesn't change the fact that you were my older brother. No matter what happened between us. It pains me to say that I never got to tell you how much I looked up to you growing up. We both said mean things, had our laughs, spent countless hours playing World of Warcraft together, dodged countless shots in Halo, built fighters cars in other games, worked on your motorcycle's brakes and chains, and shared the shock and horror of Mom's passing... I look back on those times and my heart aches that we drifted apart. We may have had different fathers... But, the tears in my eyes as I write this tell me that we were truly brothers, in the fullest sense of the word. I thank you for all that you taught me and all that you've done for me; even if the lessons were hard, I learned many things from you.

“ Mike was only a part of our John Deere family for a short time but I am honored that we had that. He will be greatly missed by his co-workers and our customers. He was a great person with a big heart whose smile made it easy to come to work each day. Things in our business change every day but not Big Mikes's smile. Our sympathies go out to his family and freinds.

I met Michael last thanksgiving through my daughter Nikki. It was a pleasant time in my life to meet someone whom you could tell in a few minutes who he was. Michael made you feel so comfortable just talking about life in general. I am thankful that GOD allowed us to meet. I knew him only a short time but miss him a lot. My thoughts and prayers are for family and friends for i know he was a blessing and will be missed.
