“ Jeffrey, I heard about Brett passing away from my sister in Hartsville. He was still a young man. I only wish that he and his first born son could have known each other. My thoughts are with your “ Cameron and Aubrey: Words cannot express the sympathy we feel for you in your time of loss. You were your father's pride and joy, more precious to him than anything else in his life. I could see that in his eyes the very last time I saw him, shaking Cameron's hand and patting him on the back. Aubrey, you were "his rose," and the "squash princess." Remember all of the good times and the love that you shared, as you try to find closure despite these circumstances. We love you both very much, and we will be praying for you. Trust in God to comfort your hearts.
