“ There will come a day
when your tears of sorrow will softly flow into tears of remembrance...
and your heart will begin to heal itself...
and grieving will be interrupted by episodes of joy...
and you will hear the whisper of hope.
There will come a day
when you will welcome the tears of remembrance...
as a sunshower of the soul...
a turning of the tide...
a promise of peace.
There will come a day when you will...
risk loving...
go on believing...
and treasure the tears of remembering##imported-begin##Brandie

“ I live directly across the road from Ms. Myrtle. She was such a sweet lady who enjoyed my two sons, who lovingly called her Aunt Myrtle. I will miss our conversations during our trips to the mailbox. Your family will be in my prayers. Ms. Myrtle will be greatly missed. “ Dear Melton Family,

I had the pleasure of getting to know Mrs. Myrtle when I taught her Sunday School Class for a couple of years. She was always smiling and always had a good, kind word to say to me. I thought she looked like every cuddly grandmother should look. I will miss her. She was a blessing to me.
