Ed, God bless you and your family as you embark on this journey. The road you walk may be slow and painful, but the final steps will bring inner peace and calm to your troubled heart. You will laugh again, the hurt will not last forever. So walk tenderly through the coming days, and may the coming months be peaceful ones for you and those you love.

Nancy (red) and Brenda laughing it up at Clayton Wilson's house .. We enjoyed her visits in Memphis sometimes with her family and some by herself. About two years ago I picked up Nancy at the airport and she wanted to visit Tom's BBQ on Raines road in Memphis and I said "OK" we have to do this now because people say one day I am going to do this... so I decided to drive her down Homewood Road where we use to live in Memphis and I took her to Tom's BBQ right after that. We ordered Rib tips as it had been recommend on the "GUY FIERI" show. She had seen the show and It was one of the dives mention on his show. I was so glad we got to go. She loved cooking for her family and watching the cooking show on TV. When her hair was shorter she looked a lot like Paula Deen .. Yes and we took her to the Paula Deen buffet in Harrah's Tunica.

During her visits to Savannah with her family they did visit Paula Deen's famous restaurant in Savannah. Family and Food was her happiness along with Mytle Beach and traveling. I will miss our talks on the phone and her visits. My sister Nancy.

“ My sister Nancy understood the healing effect of laughter. She was a natural teacher. She taught me how to go with the flow and how to carry on despite the pain of loss. She enriched my life in so many ways. When we were in our teens and early twenties she took me on many trips and taught me the significance of each place we traveled. She especially enjoyed trips to the Beach and taught me how to overcome my fear of playing in the ocean surf. This enabled me later in life to become a strong swimmer, sailor, and scuba diver. She had the skills to lead, inspire, and empower those that were close to her. I will always be indebted to her for broadening my horizons. I will miss our long talks for the rest of my life. Nancy, I release you now with a heart full of love. RIP beloved sister.

“ Diane, and to all the family and loved ones of Nancy, my heart is saddened by her loss. I have wonderful childhood memories of Nancy as I do of all the members of the Wilson family. May you all during this time of grief be surrounded with family and friends who provide comfort and love. My thoughts are with you, Suzie McIntosh

“ No one could ask for a sweeter, kinder sister. When all my buddies were gone, she would putch batting practice to me, no matter how many times she got hit. When I stayed up all night perfecting my epic senior term paper, she agreed to hand it in for me. After all the terrible treatment we received at the hands of the public (Marines returning from Viet Nam), she knew the best way to cheer me up was to take me to my first and only Yankees game. This life was made so much better by your loving presence. I lived for your visits so we could sit up all night and talk music and old time stuff. I love you dearly, and nothing will fill this hole in my heart until we meet again.
