“ Words often cannot express what our heart would like to say. Saddened to hear that you have had to say good bye to your mother. My memory of Aunt Pauline is that she was a strong lady, not afraid to speak her mind, she was compassionate and wise. I know you all will miss her greatly;but she lives on in each of you. You are her living legacy and that is what brought her joy. May God's grace and peace give you faith and hope until you are all together again and there will be no goodbyes and tears are just a memory of love that is eternal.

“ To entire James family: I am so sorry to hear about this. Pauline was a special woman with a huge heart of gold. From day one when I first met her, she treated me as if I were one of her sons. She and Ben both always treated me that way no matter what the circumstances were. As long as I live, I will never forget that. I know when I think of Pauline I remember Pauline in how she use to be.....And the woman that loved to sit and talk with me....And the one that use to cook really great spreads of food. She was very much like her brother William by always making it a point to speak, talk to me, and welcome me. People like that are hard to find in the world these days. I am still fortunate and lucky enough to have both of my parents with me.....So I really do not know how it feels to lose either parent or what you are going through. In this dark hour, I pray that God will give you strength and faith. I know that God has a reason for everything and now He has called her home. She's in a place where she has no more pain or suffering.

But as you told me when I needed comforting, the heartache will get easier.
