Mrs. Smith, widow of James Edward Smith, died Sunday, December 29, 2013. Born in Darlington County, SC, she was a daughter of the late Vance and Sallie Phelps Shaw.

In loving remembrance of Pearline Smith, but known to most as "MeMe," who passed away peacefully at one of her favorite places. Her life was devoted to serving her family and friends, and foremost, her savior. Anyone that knew her, knew of what a beautiful woman she was, not only on the outside, but most importantly on the inside. She cherished all her moments and memories with the ones she held dearly. Her greatest joy in life was her three girls, and her five grandchildren. She instilled in everyone she came across the importance family, and being close to his or her loved ones. She will be nothing short of missed by all, but she is now worshiping, rejoicing, and more than likely, playing the piano for her heavenly father.³

Surviving are her daughter, Judith S. (Jimmy) Byrd of Hartsville, SC, Jenise Smith of Darlington, SC, Janice Matthews of Hartsville, SC; brothers, Charles Williams of Hartsville, SC, J.T. Shaw of Hartsville, SC; sisters, Linda Kelley of Hartsville, SC, Lou Easter Beaver of Hartsville, SC; grandchildren, Blair S. Huggins, James Devin Matthews, Chandler Cleveland Byrd, Amber Lain Sherrill, and Evan Luther Byrd, all of Hartsville, SC.

“ I am so sorry for your loss. The Bible calls Jehovah God at 2Corinthians 1:3,4 the God of comfort and tender mercies. That means that no matter what difficult situation we may face Jehovah will be there to help us out. Also Isaiah 25:8 tells us that Jehovah will eliminate death forever. I hope that these scriptures can help all in grief.
