“ I am sorry to hear of your loss. The Bible calls death an enemy. It is especially an enemy when it strikes someone dear to us. God is more powerful than death, and he promise to get rid of this enemy once and for all. The Bible teaches: "As the last enemy, death will be brought to nothing." (1Corinthians 15:26) I hope these words will help you cope with the loss of your loved one.###imported-begin###Rosa Brown###imported-end###

“ I am so sad to learn of your loss. I did love my cousin Peggy! She was always so sweet and kind to me from the time I was a little kid 'til the last time I saw her...Peggy did love my Moma and Moma loved her. I bet they will be having a wonderful musical reunion together praising God in heaven. You all are in my thoughts and prayers today and the days and weeks ahead. Love,

“ My dear cousin Peggy, you brought many happy moments to my life when we were younger, when I was still in high school. You and my sister Ginia were the same age and saw a lot of each other during those years. My favorite memory is when you would appear at our house and say to me, "Tommy, let's go ride and laugh." I had my driver's license and could never resist that invitation. You, Ginia and I would pile into the car (Was it that old tan and white '58 Ford of ours?) and head out over dirt roads, field roads and even over the fields themselves, bumping around and laughing hysterically—just being silly and enjoying every minute of it. I still use your phrase "Let's go ride and laugh" to this day (at age 66), and though I'm riding the streets of Atlanta instead of bumping over fields, I am able to forget my troubles for a little while and laugh and just be silly. Thank you for giving me that precious gift. I'm so glad we shared that memory a few years ago. God speed. Your loving cousin,
Tommy###imported-begin##Tommy Woodham###imported-end##
