“ Dan and Dona, I have no words that will express our extreme sadness for your loss. We didn't know Tyson, but having you two as his parents leaves no doubt that he was a fine young man. Sara, I know you feel your world has stopped. I can't say I know how you feel. From what I've heard, Tyson loved you very much and would want you to remember him forever but find happiness in the future. God bless and keep you all in his loving embrace. --- Joyce and Andy Beasley

“ Our Dear Sara,

Words cannot express our heartfelt sympathy and tears cannot wash away the pain within your soul. Only time and remembering all the good and special times with Tyson will fill the huge hole in your being. Just remember, he was going to be your soul mate for ever and ever; and we know that his memory will forever reside in your heart. He had to have been the most wonderful person in your world and I'm sure he knew that! You are in our thoughts and prayers Sara. Please remember that God hurts as well; one of His special children's life was cut short.

“ *Dear Dan and Donna,
Maureen and I offer our deepest sympathy and prayers. I recall fondly Tyson's occasional trips to our work area. We told jokes, shared stories and enjoyed time together. The special father and son bond, the pride that you have, was obvious to us all. You could not hide it. What a fine young man! I was glad to know him. I do believe in God and I believe in everlasting life. We are praying to Him for that, for Tyson. And we are praying that you and Donna and the family find peace, understanding and faith in Heaven! May God Bless Tyson and may His perpetual light shine upon him.*

“ Daniel, Donna, and Sarah, I am so terribly sorry for ya'lls loss. Tyson was one of the finest young men that I have ever had the pleasure of knowing. Nathan and I were thinking last night about the times he hunted with us when he was younger. He was always fun to be with, the perfect young gentleman and good sport. Only Ya'll can feel the loss that I imagine is immeasurable. My boys have all been in wrecks and only god knows why they were not taken from me. However, I know you will trust in the lord as I do because only in him he can you find solace and relief.

I hope to see Ya'll over the next day or two to personally give you my heartfelt condolences. I will always remember him as a "birght spot" in my and my boys lives. God's peace be with you.

“ Dearest Donna and Dan,

I so wish I could be there with you today and in Lexington. Please know that I certainly am in spirit and with my prayers. Though Tyson's life was tragically cut short, his infectious smile, his gentle, good-humored nature, his joy in life, and his loving spirit will never leave us. His life was a witness to the Lord and a tribute to you two and the rest of the family who helped him become the man he was. We all know we will see him again, but that doesn't make your lives easy now. I "give" you one of my favorite Scripture verses, II Thess 3:16: "May the Lord of Peace himself give you peace at all times and in every way. The Lord be with you all."

“ Tyson was a joy. There is no other way to describe him. I remember when I first met Tyson I knew he was something special. When I taught him at Thomas Hart he would get that a sweet little devilish grin when he was talking or doing something other than was he was supposed to be doing. Who could ever get upset with him with that grin of his? He was so smart and nothing could hold him back. The world will never be the same without Tyson in it.

Know that the heavens will shine more brightly now that he is there. Know that when you look up at the stars and they twinkle it is Tyson and his twinkling eyes looking down on you. God bless you and hold you tightly in his hands.
