“ Dear Lisa & Jessica,
I heard the news too late and I'm very late in writing. We REALLY lost touch when we moved to TN. Our hearts were broken when we got the news! Steve & I were 33 days apart in age. The first six years we lived in Hartsville, before moving to Bamburg, we were best friends. He was my cousin and only friend I had in Hartsville. My thoughts have never left him and never will. We had the best times one could hope for. When he met you, he let me know and he was very happy to have you as his wife. Then Jessica came along, he was so proud to have her and he let everyone know it. You two brought so much to his life, I am sure you miss him, but time and God's grace is the two things that can see you through. Uncle Gary said, Steve was ready to meet God; the best thing that can happen in life! I could go for hours talking about Steve & I, all good things, I never remember a disagreement we had. He was a fine man.
Our prayers & thoughts are with you & Jessica.
Love & prayers, Mike & Jeannie

“ Lisa,

I am lost for words...my heart aches for you and Jessica. As you know I am in Oregon, if I were home, I would be there in person for you all, but I can only be there in heart and prayers.

We have known and been wonderful friends all of our lives. I remember when you and Steve met....it was love at first sight, you could feel the love around you two.

You have always held a special place in my heart...you stayed over your shift to be with me when Callie was born. And one of the first to hold her. I still have the picture.

Memories are wonderful to have and hold on to...hearts connected never fade my sweet friend. May God bless you and your entire family.

I Love you Girlfriend,

“ Lisa,
Steve was a very unique individual who touched the lives of those of us who knew him. He was special and his quick smile and laugh will be missed.

One of the most wisest decisions he made in his life was choosing you as a wife.

You have demonstrated strength, resolve, and devotion during these past few months as you cared for him.

Below is the email notification I sent to the Coker family about Steve's passing away which I would like to share with you:
It is with much sadness that I share Steve Adams has just passed away.

Since December of 2006, Steve fought a very brave battle with cancer. He met this challenge with an amazing sense of humor and the ability to put his visitors at ease when they dropped by for a visit. He had a deep love and strong loyalty for Coker College and the Coker family.##imported-begin##Janice Tallon##imported-end##

“ Lisa, Jessica, and Cole, my family and I are sad to hear of Stevie's passing. In July when we had the family reunion all of our cousins shared stories of our childhood and alot of them had to do with Stevie and being at Grandma Adams' house and the fun that was shared there (and being mischievous) as a family. Since we have all gone our separate ways and have not seen each other on a regular basis we have missed so much in each other's life. It is good to know that we will meet on "that beautiful shore". When we last spoke and Stevie was in the hospital it was shared with us about his love for Cole. Well Cole has his personal "Guardian Angel" now. Take care and you are in our prayers. “ We were so sorry to hear of Stevie's passing. We grew up as close cousins. I was a lot older, but remember rocking him to sleep at Grandmother Adams' house. As the years have passed, we didn't see each other very often. May God bless his memory and give comfort to all the family during these days. I loved him very much.
