

Mr. Walter "Chappy" Chapman

June 27, 1920 - February 7, 2013

Mr. Walter "Chappy" Chapman, 92, died peacefully Thursday, February 7, 2013. Funeral plans will be announced by Brown-Pennington-Atkins Funeral Home.

Tribute Wall

VC

“ Michele, Mr. "Chappy" certainly made a wonderful difference in the lives of others at Morningside. I was also a part of the devotional team at St. Luke UMC. He was a very faithful man, quiet and humble. It was a privilege to have known Mr. "Chappy". He will be missed.

Vangie Cannon
New Albany, Indiana

Vangie Cannon - February 11, 2013 at 10:20 AM

MM

“ Michele,
I was sad to hear of Chappie's passing as I had become his friend when going to Morningside with our St. Luke devotional team. He always came to our meetings and would sing with me as I played and sang old hymns. He will be missed by all who knew him, especially his buddy, Leon Coward. I knew that he had been a Marine and that he had been at Iwo Jima. He remained a brave man through his aging and illness. I am glad that I had the chance to know him. Know that I will be thinking of you as you miss him.
Marty McCulloch

Marty McCulloch - February 11, 2013 at 08:59 AM

“ I am thankful that I had the opportunity to eat lunch with "Chappy" and his co-horts for the span of two years! I enjoyed seeing his face light up anytime we spoke of the United States Marine Corps...what an honor it was for him to faithfully serve our country! I, also, appreciate the hospitality he showed me by allowing me the privilege in sharing God's Word with him in the hopes I may be an encouragement to him. I will be praying for his family & his close friends as they will miss him greatly!

*Doug Simmons
Darlington, SC*

Doug Simmons - February 08, 2013 at 03:43 PM