“ I worked with Bill at OSU. I just learned of his passing. I didn't receive my annual Christmas card this year so I asked a friend to find out if he had passed. Bill was a great friend who,helped me through some difficult times. I loved his quirky sense of humor and his colorful collection of sweaters. He gave me one for Christmas one year. I did a "roast" of Bill when he retired and I still have a copy of my remarks which I sent to him a couple of years ago. I will miss our chats about the times we shared at OSU. He was one of a kind and I will treasure my memories of him and his friendship

“ I met Bill through his sister Shirley who was our neighbor. We became friends and he would call me for handyman work. I always enjoyed talking with him and getting bowled over by his huge dog Orpthos.He was an avid reader and loaned lots of books to me as we had similar history interests. I really loved Bill and will miss him dearly. He was the gentlest of souls. My sympathy to his family and prayers.

I knew Bill when he worked for the Ohio State University library in Newark, Ohio. We spent many walks together at the campus bike trail with his English sheep dog and my collie. I continued our friendship when he moved to Hartsville. We often talked about what books we were reading and his trips. Bill was a dear, sweet man and beloved friend. I never got to meet his dear Porthos but we also shared many stories about the two pets we had after he moved.. I will miss our conversations and thank the Lord for his friendship. God's peace to his family and friends.

I will miss Bill's long conversations about travel in Europe. He was like the walking encyclopedia about historical places and people. His knowledge was enormous and he never stopped researching for more. And he did love his "Portos" so much and was so proud of him. Rest In Peace Bill!

“ It will not be the same without Mr. Bill's morning story about Porthos, his huge Russian Terrier, and our morning walk to the car after our YMCA workout. He will finally be back with his sisters whom he missed.
